MKN, the German premium manufacturer of professional cooking technology, today announces a new record for annual turnover. For the third business year in a row in the companies 62 year history, sales have out-performed expectation with a significant double figure growth. On top of continued growth in Germany, Export and the Worldwide company activities have developed very dynamically. “This has resulted in the international share of total sales amounting to more than 50% of company turnover for the first time“ says Georg Weber, Managing Director of MKN.

The strong growing demand on the innovative CombiCooking technology HansDampf has contributed nationally and internationally to this extraordinary achievement and success of the company.
